CHILD MURDER WAVE SWEEPING COUNTRY

In as Many Weeks, Five Children Put to Death.

WORK OF HEARTLESS DEMONS

Latest Victim Is Little Golden-Haired Viola Boylan, a Little School Girl of New York City, Who Was Brutally Slain.

New York, July 3.—A wave of child murder, the most hideous of crimes, is sweeping the country.

Within a few weeks the lives of five innocents have been blotted out in five widely separated sections of the country.

In at least three cases the demons stained with the blood of childhood have covered their tracks.

The last victim is little golden-haired Viola Boylan, aged 9, a little schoolgirl of New York city. Her father is an artist.

Frederick Schoeppel, who lives in the same building as the Boylans, had gone down to the cellar for some kindling wood. He knew it was dark down there and carried a light.

As he passed by the coal bin he saw something white. Stooping over, he saw that it was the body of beautiful little Viola Boylan, half buried in the coal.

With a cry of horror, Schoeppel fled from the basement.

Policemen came and viewed the spot where the body lay. They inspected other parts of the cellar, and came to the conclusion that the murder had not been committed there, but that the child had been put to death elsewhere and deposited there by stealth at night.

A ribbon which she had worn on her hair was found some distance away, near the door. There were no signs of a struggle yet the child's hands were torn, her neck was broken and she bore other evidences of having been maltrated in the most atrocious and fiendish manner.

Immediately after the body was discovered her 13-year-old sister, Bessie, at once recalled that a week before, two young Italians who were loafing in front of a wine shop in the neighborhood, had attempted to seize Viola as the two were passing the place. These two men have been hunted, but at yet there is no clew.

Martin Boylan, a brother of Viola, has given up his place with an express company, armed himself with a revolver, and sworn to devote his life to finding and punishing the murderers of his little sister.

All Pledged to Socialism.

Denver, Colo., July 3.—By a vote of 283 to 66, the convention of the Western Federation of Miners has adopted a new preamble for the constitution and by-laws of the federation which, in effect, pledges all the members to solcialism. The Western Federation of Miners and the Brewery Workers' union, it is expected, will form the nucleus of the national organization.

TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE.

It Is Said President Small Has Ordered Extension of Same.

San Francisco, July 3.—It is announced that President Small of the Commercial Telegraphers union of America Monday night extended the strike of the telegraphers by ordering out the operators of the Western Union and Postal Companies in another city to help out the men on strike in this city and Oakland.

President Small would not say where the strike had been called, and for the present will not disclose the location until the message reaches its destination.

Orders for the extension of the strike, it is declared, were mailed by President Small Monday night. It is believed by many of the operators that either Portland, Los Angeles or Seattle, will be the scene of the next walkout, while some declare that the men in Chicago, regarded as the key to the telegraph situation of the entire country, have been ordered out.

The pickets of the Commercial Telegraphers' union have been notified by President Small to look for J. L. Powelson, an operator who is said to be on his way here from Los Angeles to act as strike breaker for the Western Union. It is asserted by members of the union that he is a deserter from the signal corps of the United States army and is wanted by the army authorities in Utah.

Superintendent May, of the Western Union and General Superintendent Stoner of the Postal repeated their assertions of previous days that their companies are handling all business without delay.

Superintendent May stated that there were 107 men at work in the Western Union main office at Oakland. Six branch offices were re-opened in this city Monday by the Western Union.

Williams-Vardaman Contest Warmest In the History of Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss., July 3.—With the state primary to be held just thirty days hence, the candidates for state office have started down the home stretch for what promises to be the liveliest finish in the political history of Mississippi.

Public interest continues to be about equally divided between the Williams-Vardaman senatorial fight and the gubernatorial campaign. Concerning the former, nearly every man has a firmly fixed opinion, corresponding with the identity of his favorite.

Both factions are making very confident claims, the Williams followers saying that Vardaman will be defeated by at least 25,000 votes, while the Vardaman followers say that Williams will be snowed under by an equal if not larger vote.

LIVES OF WHITES IN PERIL FROM INDIANS

Troops Ordered to Be Ready to Prevent Outbreak.

TROUBLE AT FORT McDOWELL

Killing of An Apache by a Subagent, In Self-Defense, It Is Said, May Lead to an Uprising of Indians in Arizona.

El Paso, Tex., July 3.—Troops at Fort Apache, Ariz, it is announced, have been ordered to be in readiness to proceed to Fort McDowell, Ariz., where it is said an outbreak of Indians is feared as a result of the killing of Austin Navajo, an Apache, last Saturday by W. H. Gill, subagent at McDowell, who claims to have shot the indian in self-defense.

Washington, July 2.—A telegram was on Monday received from Superintendent Goodman, of the McDowell agency, Arizona, by the Indian bureau containing the report of trouble at that agency. He says the shooting by farmers grew out of an effort to remove some troublesome Indians from the agency, which was undertaken on orders from Washington, and was in self-defense. Mr. Goodman says the lives of whites, friendly Indians and of the Indian police are in danger, but that the sheriff of Maricopa county, with seven others, is on the way to the scene of trouble, and that the territorial militia will be available if needed. The aid of the national troops will not be asked unless the situation assumes a more serious aspect than at present. Gill is a preacher.

LITTLE TOT'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Big Engine Passes Over Baby Without Inflicting a Scratch.

Chicago, July 3.—Somewhere in Winnetonka, a north shore suburb, there is a baby which has the proud distinction of having been run over by a railroad train and emerging from under the wheels without a scratch.

Just after leaving the station Monday Engineer Duncan, of a northbound Chicago and Northwestern express train saw a white object lying between the rails in front of th etrain. At the first glance he supposed it to be a newspaper and paid little attention to it. The next instant he threw on his airbrakes with a jerk that shocked every one on the train.

"Good heavens!" he shouted, turning a white face to his fireman, "it's a baby."

By the time the train had come grinding to a standstill, the white object was under the tender. Duncan and his fireman jumped to the ground, and with a group of passengers, hastily gathering around, drew the body tenderly from under the big engine. The baby, which had been lying on its face opened its eyes, stared at its rescuer for a moment and then burst into a healthy wail.

The child was absodutely unhurt.

Subsequently, efforts to learn the identity of the child or its parents were unavailing. The baby appeared to be about a year and a half old.

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

Speaker Slaton Will Soon Announce the Committees.

Atlanta, July 3.—It took just thirty minutes for the house to meet, have prayer, adopt the journal of Saturday, introduce and read for the first time nineteen bills, and adjourn until Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

There was only one motion made during the brief session, and that was "I move this house do now adjourn."

Until Speaker Slaton announces his committees, the house cannot get down to business, and he stated Monday that he was at work on this difficult task, and would probably read them out Wednesday or Thursday.

But during that brief space there were introduced two general bills which will be of great interest, and the first of which will revolutionize the educational system of Georgia.

This measure was introduced by Messrs. Candler of DeKalb county, and Holder of Jackson, amending the constitution of the state relative to the school system of Georgia so that the section which relates thereto carrying the words "in the elementary branches of English education only" shall be stricken out, and, when amended, shall read: "There shall be a thorough system of common schools for the education of children in Georgia, as nearly uniform as practicable, the expenses of which shall be provided by taxation or otherwise. These schools shall be free to all children alike, but there shall be separate schools for both white and black."

The second general measure of great importance read for the first time on Monday was by Messrs. Holder and Flanigan of Jackson county, providing for the establishment of a state institution for the care of feebleminded and epileptic children.

A third important measure offered was that of Messrs. Warnell and Burkhalter of Tattnall county, and is aimed at Sunday cheap-rate excursions. In it there is provided that no tickets be sold on railroads at less rate for travel on Sunday than any other day, and makes the violation of this act punishable as for a misdemeanor.

Another prohibition bill was read in the house for the first time Monday, but it was local in application only. This was the measure introduced by Mrs. Jones of Mitchell county, and placed the prohibitive tax of $30,000 on dealers in intoxicating liquors in that county.

WOULD CONSOLIDATE THE FIVE REPUBLICS

Maneuvers by President Zelaya In Central America.

IS OPPOSED BY NEW COMBINE

New Combination Is Said To Be Honduras, Guatemala and Salvador and Aims to Defeat Zelaya's Consolidation.

Puerto Cortez, Honduras, June 27—Via New Orleans, La., July 2.—In the last few days a new combination has apeared on the Central American checkerboard of five republice, where President Zelaya had been maneuvering for several months by means of revolutionary plots to consolidate the five countries under one government. The new combination is reported to be Honduras, Guatemala and Salvador. Their understanding was made at Tegucagalpa, Honduras, the capital, and aims at the defeat of the consolidation.

Special ministers from Guatemala and Salvador recognized provisional President Davila as president of Honduras and he agreed, as reported in Washington dispatches, to act independently of the control of Terencio Sierra, and in recognizing Davila, the Guatemalan and Salvadoran diplomats strengthened the hold of a president hostile to Zelaya and thereby robbed the latter of the fruits of his successful Honduran war, namely, the opportunity to name a president who would obey him.

The first move of the new combination was to force the evacuation of Honduras by Nicaraguan troops, and thereby Purto Barrios, Guatemala, has within the last week been relieved of the menace of the Nicaraguan general, Estrada's army, which, for many weeks, camped in Honduras within a few hours' of striking distance from Guatemala.

Since the evacuation the defeated generals of former President Manuel Bonilla have been returning to their country and some of them have been invited on missions to Tegucigalpa, which are cosidered significant.

It is reported that Zelaya did not yield to the demand of evacuation until his envoy, Gomez, who recently conferred with President Diaz, of Mexico, received the refusal of Diaz to act with Nicaragua in an attack upon Guatemala. It is reported also that Nicaragua has already spent between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 in fine attempts to place men of Zelaye's choice in the presidential chairs of other republics and that the people are discontented with the large expenditures.

Nicaragua issued about $2,000,000 of treasury notes, a percentage of which were to be redeemed in customs duties.

SHERIFF DUTCH WAS HERE.

Sheriff of Alachua County, Has Been Here 77 Years.

Sheriff's recent visit of a day or two relatives in this city, Eli Dutch, familiarly known to many who knows him as "Grandpa" Dutch returned to his home in Archer.

Sheriff Dutch is now in his eighty-third year, notwithstanding his advanced years from general appearances and activity, he would be taken for a man of nearly a score of years less. He is quite active, both in body and mind, and a more entertaining individual never lives. He is as jolly as the boy of twenty and unhesitatingly declares he will never grow old.

Sheriff Dutch was born in Bulloch county, Ga., in 1830, but came to Florida when he was a mere child. He has been a resident of Alachua county for seventy-seven years, during which time he has made a most worthy and honorable citizen, and has reared a large and prosperous family, coming to the third generation. He is probably the oldest Confederate veteran in the State, and was about to arrange his papers for a pension under the law passed at the last session of the Legislature.

Mr. Swearingen, who employs from 125 to 150 men at all times, was desirous of showing his men how appreciative he was of their faithfulness and their service, with the result that he ordered "the fatted calf" killed, and a detachment from the force, who declared that they were perfectly familiar with the process of a barbecue, volunteered to do the work. A large barbecue vat was prepared, and all during the night Tuesday the barbecuers were kept busy preparing the meat.

On Wednesday not only the employes of Mr. Swearingen and his family congregated at the scene of the feast, but "there were others," friends of the operator, but there was plenty for all, and the day was spent in a manner most enjoyable to all, which was duly appreciated all around.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble [illegible] with the kidneys out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

THE NEWS FROM MELROSE.

Launching of Motor Boat Was Event of Marked Interest—Personals.

Melrose, July 3.—A stranger coming into Melrose yesterday afternoon would have been astonished to find most of the stores closed and nobody on the streets, for everybody in town, old and young, was at the foot of Quail street to witness the launching of the Jackson-Baldwin motorboat.

A start was made early by setting the boat on a truck and rolling her carefully on prepared tracks along Park street and down Quail street. The boat, gaily decorated with flags and held only by a long rope in the hands of many willing helpers, was ready for the final plunge, when at 3:15 p. m. Miss Lenna Jackson stepped forward and breaking a bottle of wine over the bow, named the boat "Lenema."

Let go! rang out, and midst the hearty cheers of the crowd the launch floated off in the most approved style, sitting as square and true as possible. A prettier sight no one could wish to see as she rode the water with the many flags flying in the breeze.

A better-made boat, or a more elegant and beautifully designed one, would be hard to find. She certainly does her owners credit, and our citizens are proud to think this is a Melrose talent. Bravo, Harry and Memory!

The Lenema, named after Mrs. Baldwin and Miss Jackson, measures 30 by 9 feet, and is equipped with an 8 horse-power double cylinder gasoline engine. The cabin will seat twenty-five or thirty comfortably, and five or six more could find seats in the engine-room. The inside will be hardwood finished, while the outside is white with green trimmings.

May their owners have many pleasant hours with the Lenema, is the wish of all Melrose.

The children's day excursion will take place July 7th in the morning, and not in the evening as heretofore stated.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Wickes have removed to their farm on Ingleside avenue.

Miss Pearl Griner has returned from a most enjoyable visit to her parents at Anthony.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon McRae are leaving today for McRae, Ga., hoping to return here in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. H. von Noszky expect to leave for Asheville, N. C., about the middle of this month.

FOURTH OF JULY—Seaboard Air Line railway will sell tickets at rate of one and one-third straight fares for the round trip between all points with a minimum rate of fifty cents. Tickets on sale July 2nd, 3rd and 4th. Good returning on or before July 8th.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Mansell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 9, '06, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and when a new discovery is made by the same, and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps, for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

S.S.S. RIDS THE SYSTEM OF MALARIA

Malaria is an atmospheric poison which we unconsciously breathe into our systems. The blood in its constant passage through the lungs absorbs the germs, and the destroys the rich, red corpuscles of this vital fluid and reduce it to such a weak, watery condition that it is unable to properly nourish the system, and disease gets a foothold. Then the symptoms of Malaria, such as pale, sallow complexions, weak vitality, poor appetite, deranged digestion, and perhaps chills and fever show that the trouble is affecting every part of the body. Malaria also affects the liver, producing a chronic state of biliousness, and often a long spell of fever follows when the blood becomes fully contaminated with the poison. Chronic Sores and Ulcers, boils, aches and pains, and skin affections of various kinds often result from this insidious disease if the poison is allowed to accumulate in the blood in sufficient quantities. Malaria must be removed from the system through the circulation, and for this purpose nothing equals S. S. S. This great remedy goes down into the blood and drives out all germs, microbes and poisons, and permanently cures Malaria. S. S. S. not only cleanses the blood of the cause, but furnishes it with the healthful properties it needs, so that instead of a weak, germ-infected stream, spreading disease throughout the system, it becomes a rich, red fluid, nourishing the body and enabling it to resist disease. S. S. S. is also the greatest of all tonics, and builds up and invigorates the entire system while ridding the blood of the germs of Malaria. Persons who are suffering from Malaria will be pleased with the prompt and pleasant results produced by the use of S. S. S., and can take it with confidence because it is an absolutely safe medicine, being free from harmful minerals of any kind. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

LETTER FROM COMMISSIONERS.

The Legislature of Florida at its recent session created a Commission to investigate the acts and doings of the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund from the beginning of the Trust to date. This Commission is now daily engaged in the work required by said Legislative Act.

There is a mass of records, books, papers, maps, charts, etc., to be carefully gone over and examined as well as land deeds, patents, etc., which will necessarily require some time to complete thoroughly as required by the law. Numbers of witnesses who are supposed to be material have been subpoenaed to appear before the Commission at stated intervals to testify as to individual transactions and land sales and by their evidence to aid the Commission in ascertaining if the great Trust of the Internal Improvement Fund has been administered at all times faithfully, honestly and to the best interest of the people of Florida.

There may be and doubtless are citizens in various portions of the State who are in possession of information that would be useful to the Commission, and we have adopted this method of appealing to the State press to give currency to our desire that any and all such persons and those who have complaints against any past action of the trustees, would let us know at once, so we may take the matter up and probe it to the bottom. Weekly papers are requested to copy.

Representative Mondell of Wyoming has "gotten his" in the shape of a call from the Interior Department for the return of 140 acres of Government land to which he is not entitled. In the general shakeup and straightening out of the land office records, it was found that Representative Mondell had filed on 160 acres of Government land, filed on it as agricultural land when in reality it had a vein of coal on it. Further he had never lived on the land to perfect his entry as is required by law, but had simply had it handed to him by the land office probably more because he was a Congressman than for any other reason. Mr. Mondell has been very active in Western land legislation and has been a strong opponent of the President in a number of his Western land programs. Possibly this pernicious activity had something to do with his being singled out by the department to be made an example of. Anyhow he returned the land and no questions were asked. It is a wholesome example, but what the country needs is more than an example. Of course it was wrong for a Congressman or anyone else to misappropriate Government land, but there are hundreds of thousands of acres of valuable mineral and timber land that have been stolen by the thousands of acres, under the tax administration of the land office, and it will be a cheering thing when the public gets "examples" of more than 160-acre cases.

Through Freight Service From Atlanta—Saving of Time.

Macon, [illegible] announced here Monday by officials of the Macon, Dublin and Savannah [illegible] way that a through freight service had been arranged with the Seaboard from Atlanta, which will mean the operation of a fast train from Atlanta to Macon over the Southern, thence to Vidalia over the Macon, Dublin and Savannah and from that point to Jacksonville over the Seaboard.

The Seaboard is said to have reached the agreement with the Southern after a failure to secure the signature of General Manager T. K. Scott, of the Georgia railroad, for the agreement by which the Georgia road was to handle through freight for the Seaboard from Atlanta.

The arrangement, which was first announced with the Southern, is practically what has been secured, and what now seems a business agreement. This, it is said, will save the Seaboard more than 12 hours on the through freight from the east and north-east and on all that which was hauled through South Carolina, far out of the way.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS.

Over a Hundred Citizens of Guatemala Thrown Into Prison.

Mexico City, Mexico, July 3.—Word has reached Mexico City that President Cabrera, of Guatemala, had caused the arrest of 160 citizens of that republic on the charge of alleged complicity in the recent attempt to assassinate him.

All were thrown into prison, and later huddled into squads of 20 and tried in groups. Two bands have been tried and many have been sentenced to death. Among the prisoners are some of the most wealthy and prominent men in the republic.

The statement is made that these men have long been on Cabrera's blacklist, and that the charges against them were trumped up for political reasons.

The report has created great excitement among Central American residents in this city, and at a mass meeting to be held the matter will be discussed.

Hot Prohibition Discussion.

Atlanta, July 3.—A red-hot prohibition discussion was provoked in the city council Monday on the introduction of resolutions by Alderman H. M. LITERARY LOG ROLLING.

How Some Famous Authors Sought to Advertise Themselves.

The [illegible] cited by Francis Gribble in his article on "The Comedy of Literary Log Rolling" in the Strand Magazine are not subject to question as to their absolute authenticity, but are amusing enough whether true or not. Sainte-Beuve increased the circulation of his books by insisting upon fighting a duel in the rain with an umbrella over his head. Gerard de Nerval used to be seen in the streets of Paris leading a lobster by a string. Mme. Krudener, the author of "Valerie" and the friend of Alexander I. of Russia, made the fortune of her novel by calling at all the Paris shops and asking for various articles of dress "a la Valerie." Of Victor Hugo and of Alexandre Dumas the elder the following stories are told:

Nor was the great poet ashamed to roll his log even at a funeral. He seized the opportunity at the obsequies of one of his own sons. It happened that on the way to the cemetery the procession passed a traveling menagerie, and the lions, for whatever reason, stopped roaring just as Victor Hugo was in front of their cage. His companion, a minor poet named Pelleport, drew his attention to the fact. "Master," he whispered, "the lions recognize you and hush their voices. The king of beasts is silent in the presence of the king of men." Victor Hugo bowed and turned the matter over in his mind. Then, after meditation, he said: "Pelleport, that was a happy thought of yours. Couldn't you write something about it?" And Pelleport wrote a sonnet about it, and the fame of the master stood on a higher pinnacle than ever.

And finally there was the case of Dumas, of whom it may almost be said that his whole life was an advertisement. Some one once said of him that his vanity was such that he was capable of getting up behind his own carriage in order to demonstrate that he had a negro footman in his service. He certainly did many things almost as absurd as that in his restless pursuit of reclame. One of his delights was to clothe his noble porportions in a uniform and to embellish the uniform with decorations to which he was not entitled. He even went so far as himself to design the uniform in which he fought—or, rather, did not fight, for he arrived after the fighting was all over—in Garibaldi's army, and he achieved a tremendous advertisement by conducting a well known actress to a court ball to which she had not been invited. He got another advertisement by allowing himself to be sued for nondelivery of a feuilleton. He was utterly in the wrong, and he lost his case, but he kept the court in roars of laughter while he explained his literary methods and the nature of the distractions which had interfered with the fulfillment of his contract. But the best of all his advertisement was attained when the announcement appeared that M. Alexandre Dumas would write the last chapter of a forthcoming romance sitting in a shop window, for all the world to see how it was done. One can understand that that sort of advertisement would suit the authors who are also interested in the sale of hair restorers. They almost owe it to the public to exhibit themselves in this way, killing two birds with a single stone. But for the author of "Monte Cristo" to do it was surely the ne plus ultra of the comedy of log rolling.

Carried It In His Head.

When four years old Mozart played minuets and learned music with facility, and at the age of six he composed a concerto for the harpsichord, which, though written strictly in accordance with the principles and technic of his art, was yet so overloaded with difficulties that it could not be played.

It is related that Mozart once happened to put off some music that he had been engaged to furnish for a court concert so long that he had not time to write out the part which he himself was to perform.

The Emperor Joseph, who was of a curious turn, chanced to be in the composer's studio when he asked: "Where is your part? I do not see it among these sheets of music."

"Here," responded Mozart, touching his forehead.—St. Louis Republic.

The Chameleon Goshawk.

I know no bird which passes through so many changes of plumage and color of eyes as the goshawk. A young one which I have mounted is about the size of a small hen and is covered with white down. His eyes are pale blue. I colored the eyes exactly from life. When fully grown, the first plumage is dark brown above and the eyes are pale yellow. No one would be likely to suspect this being a goshawk who had seen only adult birds. Later it changes to the dark slaty blue of the adult, and the eye, after passing through all the intermediate changes in color from slaty yellow, orange yellow and pink, finally assumes the deep rich red of the adult. I know no other hawk, adds Mary Hardy, writing in Forest and Stream, so handsome as the goshawk.

The Letter G.

The letter G furnishes us a curious bit of orientalism. Its Hebrew name is gimel, and, from the resemblance of the Hebrew character to the head and neck of that animal. The character was thus almost certainly derived from a picture of that animal, which, reduced to a hieroglyphic and then simplified, still distantly indicates the shape of the head and neck of the beast of burden familiar to every dweller in eastern lands.

Infantile Chicken Broth.

Customer—What on earth is this broth made of, waiter? Surely it isn't chicken broth? Waiter—Well, sir, it's chicken broth in its infancy. It's made out of the water that the eggs are boiled in.

HOW BONNER WON SUCCESS

The career of Robert Bonner, the veteran publisher, furnishes a signal illustration of the value of persistent and sagacious advertising. When he began the publication of the paper whose phenomenal success brought him fame and fortune, he did not wait for the people to find out, slowly and gradually, the interesting features of his journal.

He forced his enterprise upon public attention by a systematic lavishness of expenditure for advertising which at that time was without precedent or parallel. Whole pages of daily newspapers were secured at high prices to blazon forth the merits of his undertaking.

From one end of the country to the other the names of Bonner and his Ledger were made familiar to the people by constant repetition.

Conservative publishers, jogging along in the ruts of old routine, prophesied bankruptcy and ruin for this unconventional innovator, but Bonner kept on spending a large share of his receipts in buying publicity, and those receipts increased with startling rapidity.

Every dollar disbursed in this way brought in more dollars until croakers were confounded and pessimists in this particular branch of business silenced by his tremendous success.

The lesson is one that is as well worth heeding today as it was forty years ago.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The Hanging of Pictures.

A woman bought three pictures in a Fifth avenue art store.

"Shall I send some one up to hang them?" asked the dealer.

"I—I don't know," hesitated the woman, who had already exceeded her allowance in buying the pictures. "How much extra will it cost?"

"Not a cent," the dealer assured her. "In the case of any important sale we prefer that one of our men superintend the hanging of the picture. That insures justice for the painting. Without meaning any disrespect for our customers, I must say that not one person in a hundred who has had no special instruction in art can take a picture home and place it in an advantageous position. A man who has been trained to that business, on the other hand, can tell at a glance where to hang it and all the others in the room so that each will bring out the best points of all the rest."—New York Sun.

His Luggage.

"Ticket," said the collector as he opened the door of a carriage in which sat a man who looked as if he was anchored to his seat. The man handed over the required pasteboard, which was duly inspected. Then, looking around, the collector said, "Is there another gentleman in the carriage?" "No." "Is that other portmanteau yours, then, too?" "Other portmanteau?" "Yes, on the floor there by the other." "Those," said the traveler, with dignity, are my feet."—London Globe.

Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless boon to prepare the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, anteversion or retro-version or other displacements of womanly organs from weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famed specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native, medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients printed in plain English on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the "Favorite Prescription," send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treatise of same.

You can't afford to accept as a substitute for this remedy of known composition a secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

A QUAINT DOCUMENT.

Minutes of the First Representative Assembly in America.

The minutes of the first representative assembly in America as written by its clerk, John Twine, constitute a quaint and interesting document. They are headed:

"A reporte of the manner of proceeding in the general assembly convented at James City, in Virginia, July 30, 1619, consisting of the governor, the councell of estate and two burgesses elected out of eache incorporation and plantation, and being dissolved the 4th of August next ensuing."

The assembly met in the "quire of the churche." Then, "forasmuche as men's affaires doe little prosper where God's service is neglected, all the burgesses took their places in the quire till a prayer was said by Mr. Bucke, the minister, that it would please God to guide and sanctifie all our proceedings to his owne glory and the good of this plantation."

After the prayer the burgesses were summoned one by one to take the oath to the king, "none staggering at it."

The assembly at once set to work to adopt English laws to Virginian conditions. It added a series of trade regulations to restrict the production of tobacco, to keep up prices and to encourage the output of flax, silk and wine.

Thus before the Pilgrims were thinking of leaving Holland representative government was firmly established in the new world.—Exchange.

FOOLING A CAMEL.

How the Arabs Let the Animal Exhaust His Bad Temper.

You all have heard stories about the camel—how patient and useful he is on long, hot journeys, so that he is often called the "ship of the desert."

But he has one very bad fault. He likes to "pay back," and if his driver has injured him in any way he will not rest till he has returned the injury.

The Arabs, who wander about the deserts and so use the camel a great deal, know about this fault of his and have a queer way of keeping themselves from getting hurt.

When a driver has made his camel angry, he first runs away out of sight. Then, choosing a place where the camel will soon pass, he throws down some of his clothes and fixes them so that the heap will look like a sleeping man.

Pretty soon along comes the camel and sees the heap. Thinking to himself, "Now I've got him," he pounces on the clothes, shakes them around and tramples all over them. After he is tired of this and has turned away the driver can reappear and ride him away without harm.

Poor silly camel! He has been in what we call "a blind rage" so angry that he can't tell the difference between a man and a heap of clothes.—Mayflower.

Cheerfully Recommended for Rheumatism.

O. G. Higbee, Danville, Ill., writes Dec. 2, 1901: "About two years ago I was laid up for months with rheumatism. I tried Ballard's Snow Liniment; one bottle cured me. I can cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from like affection." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

WHAT TRAIN DO YOU TAKE?

In Wiring Give Its Number, Name of Road and Time of Arrival.

When you telegraph a friend the next time you are going to visit him and that you'd be delighted to have him meet you at the train the next day, for heaven's sake telegraph him intelligently.

If the money, invitations and disappointments of the year were aggregated in the United States in hopeless [illegible] telegrams of this kind, the average political economist would [illegible]. When the average person in the small city or town decides on the impulse to go to see a friend in the West and decides to telegraph that friend what train to meet, he becomes a victim of circumstances.

Will [illegible] go tonight on 8:30 train. Meet me.

This is the text of a ten word message which I received the other night from a friend in an Ohio city. He had started for Chicago before the telegram was received by me, and while I wanted immensely to meet him at the station instead of missing the least of fort to do so I took it out in speculating.

In sending a telegram announcing an arrival the name of the road and the train number are the two [illegible] essentials. It will be a help to the recipient of the message if in addition the time of the arrival of the train is given also. Frequently, as between the two stations involved in such a message, a difference of one hour in standard time otherwise might confuse. But as between the number of the train and the numerals in the hour of arrival the telegrapher has a chance of error, and in writing the message these two sets of numerals should be separated by the name of the road. Taking the ten word message as the standard of length, then, any person going anywhere from any station on any railroad may use the one set form of telegraphic announcement of arrival:

Arrive No. 5, Lake Shore, due 8 o'clock Monday morning.

Ordinarily no possible further information is necessary in the greatest railway center in America. The train number is unchangeable on its own system. Any railway employee anywhere will identify the train in a moment. If the recipient of the telegram wishes to know whether the train is on time before he starts to the station, he can learn in a moment over the telephone by asking about No. 5, and in the query he will have the readier response for the reason that his informant will be grateful for the inquirer's succinct knowledge of train operations. —H. W. Field in Chicago Tribune.

A PAPER OF PINS.

Pins were introduced in the sixteenth century.

Then they were costly and highly prized as gifts.

A paper of pins was more acceptable than a bouquet.

An act was passed in 1543 making it illegal to charge more than eightpence a thousand for metal pins.

Persons of quality often used pins made of boxwood, bone and silver, while the poor put up with wooden skewers.

In those day husbands were often surprised at the great amount of money that went for pins; hence the term "pin money."

Not so many years ago the frugal American housewife was wont to teach pin economy by teaching her children that canny couplet, "See a pin and pick it up, all the day you'll have good luck."—Philadelphia Record.

The Indirect Method.

Homemade ice cream was a regular item on the bill of fare at Willie's house, and while he liked the cream he drew the line at turning the freezer. One day when his mother returned home she was agreeably surprised to find him working at the crank as if his life depended on it.

"I don't see how you got him to turn the ice cream freezer," she said to her husband. "I offered him a dime to do it, and he just laughed at me."

"You didn't go about it the right way, my dear," replied her husband. "I bet him a nickel he couldn't turn it for half an hour."—Harper's Weekly.

Shopping In London.

One of the first things an American man or woman rushes out to buy in London is a serviceable well cut mackintosh, and the second article to be purchased is usually an umbrella. A man can buy in London a smart waterproof which with occasional reproofing will last him a lifetime for 3 or 4 guineas. In New York a very bad imitation will cost him from $40 to $70. The British umbrella is not only a thing of beauty in workmanship, but it will outlast all competitors across the seas.—London Express.

Feminine Human Nature.

There was some knowledge of human nature displayed by the negro porter who said, "I always calls young ladies 'Mrs.' because the younger they are the better they like it, and the older ladies I calls 'Miss' because the older they are the better they like it."

CHILD MURDER WAVE SWEEPING COUNTRY

In as Many Weeks, Five Children Put to Death.

WORK OF HEARTLESS DEMONS

Latest Victim is Little Golden-Haired Viola Boylan, a Little School Girl of New York City, Who Was Brutally Slain.

New York, July 3.—A wave of child murder, the most hideous of crimes, is sweeping the country.

Within a few weeks the lives of five innocents have been blotted out in five widely separated sections of the country.

In at least three cases the demons stained with the blood of childhood have covered their tracks.

The last victim is little golden-haired Viola Boylan, aged 9, a little schoolgirl of New York city. Her father is an artist.

Frederick Schoeppel, who lives in the same building as the Boylans, had gone down to the cellar for some kindling wood. He knew it was dark down there and carried a light.

As he passed by the coal bin he saw something white. Stooping over, he saw that it was the body of beautiful little Viola Boylan, half buried in the coal.

With a cry of horror, Schoeppel fled from the basement.

Policemen came and viewed the spot where the body lay. They inspected other parts of the cellar, and came to the conclusion that the murder had not been committed there, but that the child had been put to death elsewhere and deposited there by stealth at night.

A ribbon which she had worn on her hair was found some distance away, near the door. There were no signs of a struggle, yet the child's hands were torn, her neck was broken and she bore other evidences of having been maltrated in the most atrocious and fiendish manner.

Immediately after the body was discovered her 13-year-old sister, Bessie, at once recalled that a week before, two young Italians who were loafing in front of a wine shop in the neighborhood, had attempted to seize Viola as the two were passing the place. These two men have been hunted, but at yet there is no clew.

Martin Boylan, a brother of Viola, has given up his place with an express company, armed himself with a revolver, and sworn to devote his life to finding and punishing the murderers of his little sister.

All Pledged to Socialism.

Denver, Colo., July 3.—By a vote of 283 to 66, the convention of the Western Federation of Miners has adopted a new preamble for the constitution and by-laws of the federation which, in effect, pledges all the members to socialism. It is the announced intention of the leaders of the federation to call a convention at Chicago for the purpose of organizing an industrial and political party which will place a ticket in nomination for the next national convention. The Western Federation of Miners and the Brewery Workers' union, it is expected, will form the nucleus of the national organization.

Accepts Challenge to Wrestle.

Kansas City, Mo., July 3.—William D. Scoville, president of the Missouri Athletic club, has received an acceptance from Charles B. Cochran, of London, England, of his offer of a purse of $10,000 for a match in Kansas City in May next between Hackenschmidt and Gotch for the world's wrestling championship, the winner to take 75 per cent and the loser 25 per cent.

TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE.

It Is Said President Small Has Ordered Extension of Same.

San Francisco, July 3.—It is announced that President Small of the Commercial Telegraphers' union of America Monday night extended the strike of the telegraphers by ordering out the operators of the Western Union and Postal Companies in another city to help out the men on strike in this city and Oakland.

President Small would not say where the strike had been called, and for the present will not disclose the location until the message reaches its destination.

Orders for the extension of the strike, it is declared, were mailed by President Small Monday night. It is believed by many of the operators that either Portland, Los Angeles or Seattle, will be the scene of the next walkout, while some declare that the men in Chicago, regarded as the key to the telegraph situation of the entire country, have been ordered out.

The pickets of the Commercial Telegraphers' union have been notified by President Small to look for J. L. Powelson, an operator who is said to be on his way here from Los Angeles to act as strike breaker for the Western Union. It is asserted by members of the union that he is a deserter from the signal corps of the United States army and is wanted by the army authorities in Utah.

Superintendent May, of the Western Union and General Superintendent Storer of the Postal repeated their assertions of previous days that their companies are handling all business without delay.

Superintendent May stated that there were 107 men at work in the Western Union main office at Oakland. Six branch offices were re-opened in this city Monday by the Western Union.

GREAT BATTLE FOR SENATE.

Williams-Vardaman Contest Warmest in the History of Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss., July 3.—With the state primary to be held just thirty days hence, the candidates for state office have started down the home stretch for what promises to be the liveliest finish in the political history of Mississippi.

Public interest continues to be about equally divided between the Williams-Vardaman senatorial fight and the gubernatorial campaign. Concerning the former, nearly every man has a firmly fixed opinion, corresponding with the identity of his favorite.

Both factions are making very confident claims, the Williams followers saying that Vardaman will be defeated by at least 25,000 votes, while the Vardaman followers say that Williams will be snowed under by an equal if not larger vote.

LIVES OF WHITES IN PERIL FROM INDIANS

Troops Ordered to Be Ready to Prevent Outbreak.

TROUBLE AT FORT McDOWELL

Killing of An Apache by a Subagent, In Self-Defense, It Is Said, May Lead to an Uprising of Indians in Arizona.

El Paso, Tex., July 3.—Troops at Fort Apache, Ariz, it is announced, have been ordered to be in readiness to proceed to Fort McDowell, Ariz., where it is said an outbreak of Indians is feared as a result of the killing of Austin Navajo, an Apache, last Saturday by W. H. Gill, subagent at McDowell, who claims to have shot the Indian in self-defense.

Washington, July 2.—A telegram was on Monday received from Superintendent Goodman, of the McDowell agency, Arizona, by the Indian bureau confirming the report of trouble at that agency. He says the shooting by farmers grew out of an effort to remove some troublesome Indians from the agency, which was undertaken on orders from Washington, and was in self-defense. Mr. Goodman says the lives of whites, friendly Indians and of the Indian police are in danger, but that the sheriff of Maricopa county, with seven others, is on the way to the scene of trouble, and that the territorial militia will be available if needed. The aid of the national troops will not be asked unless the situation assumes a more serious aspect than at present. Gill is a preacher.

LITTLE TOT'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Big Engine Passes Over Baby Without Inflicting a Scratch.

Chicago, July 3.—Somewhere in Winnetonka, a north shore suburb, there is a baby which has the proud distinction of having been run over by a railroad train and emerging from under the wheels without a scratch.

Just after leaving the station Monday Engineer Duncan, of a northbound Chicago and Northwestern express train saw a white object lying between the rails in front of th etrain. At the first glance he supposed it to be a newspaper and paid little attention to it. The next instant he threw on his airbrakes with a jerk that shocked every one on the train.

"Good heavens!" he shouted, turning a white face to his fireman, "it's a baby."

By the time the train had come grinding to a standstill, the white object was under the tender. Duncan and his fireman jumped to the ground, and with a group of passengers, rapidly gathering around, drew the body tenderly from under the big engine. The baby, which had been lying on its face opened its eyes, stared at its rescuer for a moment and then burst into a healthy wail.

The child was absodutely unhurt.

Subsequently, efforts to learn the identity of the child or its parents were unavailing. The baby appeared to be about a year and a half old.

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

Speaker Slaton Will Soon Announce the Committees.

Atlanta, July 3.—It took just thirty minutes for the house to meet, have prayer, adopt the journal of Saturday, introduce and read for the first time nineteen bills, and adjourn until Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

There was only one motion made during the brief session, and that was "I move this house do now adjourn."

Until Speaker Slaton announces his committees, the house cannot get down to business, and he stated Monday that he was at work on this difficult task, and would probably read them out Wednesday or Thursday.

But during that brief space there were introduced two general bills which will be of great interest, and the first of which will revolutionize the educational system of Georgia.

This measure was introduced by Messrs. Candler of DeKalb county, and Holder of Jackson, amending the constitution of the state relative to the school system of Georgia so that the section which relates thereto carrying the words "in the elementary branches of English education only" shall be stricken out, and, when amended, shall read: "There shall be a thorough system of common schools for the education of children in Georgia, as nearly uniform as practicable, the expenses of which shall be provided by taxation or otherwise. These schools shall be free to all children alike, but there shall be separate schools for both white and black."

The second general measure of great importance read for the first time on Monday was by Messrs. Holder and Flanican of Jackson county, providing for the establishment of a state institution for the care of feeble-minded and epileptic children.

A third important measure offered was that of Messrs. Warnell and Burkhalter of Tattnall county, and is aimed at Sunday cheap-rate excursions. In it there is provided that no tickets be sold on railroads at less rate for travel on Sunday than any other day, and makes the violation of this act punishable as for a misdemeanor.

Another prohibition bill was read in the house for the first time Monday, but it was local in application only. This was the measure introduced by Mrs. Jones of Mitchell county, and placed the prohibitive tax of $20,000 on dealers in intoxicating liquors in that county.

Roanoke, Va., July 3.—President J. A. Morehead, of Roanoke college, Salem, Va., has announced the receipt of a check for $25,000 from Andrew Carnegie in fulfillment of his promise to give that amount to the endowment fund when $25,000 had been raised. His skull was crushed by the iron and death was instantaneous. Coroner T. B. Young held an inquest and the death was determined an accident, no one being charged with blame. The negro was a steady laborer and was in company with several others when the accident occurred.

Left Leg Was Broken in Three Places, Left Arm in Two Places, and Was Otherwise Painfully Injured—Now Under Treatment at Sanitarium.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun.

As the result of falling between railroad cars at Tyler, where he was employed by the Tyler Lumber Company, Castindernos Ralyn, a Greek, forty years of age, was horribly crushed, and now lies at the National Odd Fellows' Sanitarium in this city with both painful and serious injuries, having sustained injuries which may cause death without the most persistent professional watching.

This man, with about forty others, all employes of the Tyler Lumber Company, were riding on flat cars, when he lost his balance and fell between two cars, being terribly crushed before the train could be stopped.

The unfortunate man was brought by commodes to this city, when Dr. Hodges was summoned. The physician discovered that his left leg was broken in three places, his left arm in two places, besides sustaining severe bruises about the body, with the result that he may be injured internally.

The unfortunate man was taken to the Sanitarium, where he is now under the treatment of Dr. Hodges. He cannot speak or understand a word of English, but interpreters are constantly about him to make his wants known.

Dr. Hodges states that the man is in a very serious condition, but with proper care it may be possible to save his life.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Employe of Coffin Factory Came Near Meeting a Sudden Death.

L. B. Owens, a valued employe of the Gainesville Planing and Coffin Company, came up near death's door Monday that he could hear the hinges creak. It was an experience that he does not care to go through again soon, and for an hour after it occurred the cold perspiration trickled from his body in such quantities as almost cause a chill.

While Mr. Owens was engaged at a planing machine, a careless young woman feeding the machine ran a board into a castiron pulley. Naturally this pulley could not resist the hard lumber and broke, an iron piece flying with great velocity in the direction of Mr. Owen's head. The only thing that saved him was the piece of iron striking the pipe.

Had it not been for this pipe the man would have been killed instantly, and he is being congratulated by his friends that he is still alive.

To My Friends and Customers:

I take great pleasure in announcing that Mr. J. B. Padgett, having purchased a half-interest in the W. R. Thomas Livery and Sale Stable, will hereafter be associated with me in that business. Mr. Padgett is too well and favorably known throughout this entire section of the State to need any words of commendation from me. He will give his entire attention to the business, which will mean we will, from now on, be in position to give better and prompter service to our patrons than ever before, and that the business will be more carefully looked after in every way.

Grateful for the past, I solicit for the new firm from my customers and friends a continuance of their very liberal and much appreciated patronage.

Respectfully,
W. R. THOMAS.

The class of buildings is not only substantial, but modern, and Newberry in the end will prove benefited by the fire, although it came as a blow.

SUFFERED WITH ECZEMA 25 YEARS

Limb Peeled and Foot Was Like Raw Flesh—Had to Use Crutches, and Doctors Thought Amputation Necessary — Montreal Woman Writes of Cure Seven Years Ago.

BELIEVES LIFE SAVED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have been treated by doctors for twenty-five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did their best, but failed to cure it. My doctor had advised me to have my leg cut off, but I said I would try the Cuticura Remedies first. He said, "Try them if you like, but I do not think they will do any good." At this time my leg was peeled from the knee, my foot was like a piece of raw flesh, and I had to walk on crutches. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a bottle of Cuticura Pills. After the first two treatments the swelling went down, and in two months my leg was cured and the new skin came on. The doctor could not believe his own eyes when he saw that Cuticura had cured me and said that he would use it for his own patients. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Ointment, and five bottles of Resolvent, and I have now been cured over seven years, and but for the Cuticura Remedies I might have lost my life. I have lots of grandchildren, and they are frequent users of Cuticura, and I always recommend it to the many people whom my business brings to my house every day. Mrs. Jean-Baptiste Renaud, clairvoyant, 277, Mentana St., Montreal, Que., Feb. 20, 1907."

JOTTINGS FROM JUDSON.

Judson, July 1.—The drouth has been broken and we are having abundance of rain now. The farmers are wishing for the rain to stop. They think it will cause their cotton to fire and shed its fruit. The corn crop is cut off about one-fourth by the drouth, but the most of the farmers will make their bread and have some to spare.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tucker of Newberry left this morning for their home, after a few days spent visiting their parents and relatives about Judson.

Everybody seems to be happy now, that the rains have come and the crops have come out wonderfully. Most of them will make enough corn to bread them and feed their stock, and the cotton crop is as fine as we ever saw at this time of year.

PHILLIP JOHNSON IS OUT ON BOND

Arraigned in City and County Courts But Met Conditions.

ALLEGED WALKING "TIGER"

Has Succesfully Eluded the Prison Bars, With Exception of the Time He Was Held Before Trial—Trial Will Come Before Circuit Court.

Notwithstanding that Phillip Johnson, colored was arrested Saturday night by Marshal Arnow, that official declaring that he saw Johnson dispose of a pint of "booze" to another negro, for which he received sixty-five cents, it seems that Johnson has determined to put the case off, and that he does not propose to remain in jail in the meantime.

Arraigned in two courts, with a clever attorney behind him, Johnson has so far eluded the dark prison cell, except for Saturday night and Sunday, and it looks as though he has yet the top notch of advantage, though it may appear different when the case comes to a fine point in the circuit court.

Johnson was to have been arraigned in the city court Monday morning. He was brought before the court, but gave bond for his appearance Tuesday, when the case was postponed. On Tuesday he was again arraigned, pleaded not guilty, but the evidence was of such a nature that he was fined $100 and costs. Through his attorney, Evans Haile, Johnson filed an appeal, and gave bond in the sum of $225.

After the release of the defendant he was again arrested by the county authorities, being taken before Justice Colman. At this hearing the defendant waived examination for his appearance before the grand jury at the fall term of the circuit court, giving a second bond in the sum of $250.

This will end the case until the setting of the grand jury in November.

If female suffrage were an accomplished fact, we know what would happen to the thread trust that has just advanced the retail price of spool cotton.

It would not matter much what Thomas Jefferson said to the Democratic party were he alive. There would be too many of them busy talking to listen to it.

Five thousand pension applications blanks have been sent out from Tallahassee to the different county commissioners and an order for more blanks has been placed.

The Superior Court in Savannah the other day granted a man a divorce because his wife insisted upon breaking up his fiddle and other musical instruments. Evidently with this woman music had no charms.

Lina Cliften meant much when from her heart she said: "A husband carefully and tenderly placed a flower in the pale, still hand of his dead wife, when someone remarked, 'That is the last flower he ever gave her.' The living and not the dead need our kindness."

Today is the Fourth of July, the nation's birthday. Last year 158 persons were killed and 5,206 were injured as a result of the various dangerous and explosive forms of celebrating the day. Let us celebrate today but be careful that we do not have to report any calamity in the morning.

The bed of Lake Jackson, which is now high and dry, is supposed to be very fertile and several offers have been made to the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund for the purchase thereof. This land is in the center of the tobacco belt and it is thought to be valuable for the growing of tobacco.

After a week's strenuous trial, Judge William G. Loving of Virginia, who killed Theodore Estes for the alleged drugging and assault upon his daughter, has been acquitted. The "unwritten law" did not enter into the case, however, but the jury "bit" at the insanity plea, and the first vote was unanimous for acquittal.

Our Georgia friends seem very much agitated over the State prohibition bill, which was the first measure introduced in the legislature of that State. The antis are said to be waving their hands and gnashing their teeth, and trembling with fear, for it is said that the present Georgia Legislature will be controlled by prohibitionists.

The New York Packer is responsible for the statement that a commission firm in that city, located in the heart of town, and in the broad-open daytime, carted away $3,000 worth of eggs which they had purchased the previous day with bogus checks, and successfully made their escape. Any firm shrewd enough to elude the officers and accomplish their purpose in a city like New York are entitled to get away, and should be presented with a gold medal for this eggstraordinary boldness.

DEPRESSED PROSPERITY.

When such a conservative business organ as The New York Journal of Commerce is constantly warning its readers that the condition of the money market is critical and that the associated banks of New York have about all their surplus tied up, it behooves other people to sit up and take notice. Call money is offered in New York from 2 to 3 per cent but, "accommodations to mercantile houses can scarcely be had for less than 6 per cent, and the railroads would be glad to secure funds at that figure." This would indicate that the banks are cautious just now, for there is fear of the future, hence the high interest demanded on commercial and time loans, yet The Journal of Commerce says: "Money is scarce in New York."

How is it elsewhere? In all the great interior money centers, like Chicago and St. Louis, the banks have increased their loans in proportion to their deposits and surplus funds are scarce there also. In fact, the banks of the Western and Middle States are loaned up to the limit so that even in the event of higher interest being offered later in the year in New York there would be but little chance of Western money flowing there. When the crops begin to move, which will soon happen in the cotton and winter wheat regions, the demand for money by the cotton and wheat buyers will begin and must be provided for and yet neither the Southern or Western banks, nor the New York banks, would seem to be in a condition to stand that strain on their resources. If the crops should prove to be light, the increased price will demand about the same amount of cash to take care of them as if heavy crops prevailed and the price was less.

There is also the probability that some wholesale and country merchants will require to borrow of the banks, or seek extension of time on their accounts, because of the unseasonable weather hindering the ordinary purchases of seasonable goods, which would make a further drain on the banks, just when the crop moving season is in full force.

It would seem, therefore, to be wisdom on the part of ordinary people, planters, farmers and others, to keep out of debt and be cautious about purchases until good crops are assured and until the money markets are restored to their normal stability, for it may be difficult to secure temporary accommodations to meet pressing bills, especially if the crops do not meet expectations in quantity and price.

Prosperity based on tariff protection is precarious; it makes princes and paupers—commercial princes of the trust magnates and paupers of those with incomes that do not respond to trust high prices. Experience shows us that such Republican prosperity has always broken down of its own weight and financial disaster has followed very high prices. There are indications that the present boom is on the verge of collapse and it behooves wise men to be careful.

On the farmer depends our future prosperity, and if the Republican policy of protecting the trusts could be abolished, so that the farmers and consumers would not be compelled to pay protection prices for what they buy, a year of light crops could be passed over without disaster. But as it is we must have big crops and high prices to be able to pay the trusts and corporations enough toll to keep them from a bankruptcy that would affect everyone. Keep your eye on the crops.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Reports from the President's summer home, Sagamore Hill, indicate that the President is enjoying his vacation. But the theory that it was to be a workless season has already disappeared, as it was well known in the first place that it would do. Secretary Taft has just been up there to talk over his Western trip with his chief. He said after returning to Oyster Bay that it was a purely personal visit and that politics were not discussed. But everyone knows that visitors are not supposed to divulge the exact nature of their conversation with the President. So it is possible that the subject of Ohio was mentioned in the conversation.

The other members of the Cabinet are always running up to Oyster Bay on one pretext or another. Secretary Metcalf will be the next visitor, having a number of naval matters to present, including the final disposition of the contract for submarine boats for which Congress appropriated $300,000 at the last session. The tests of the submarines at Newport have recently been concluded and while one type of boat seemed to have all the best of the competition, there were points of excellence about both of them and it is possible that the contract may be split and a part of it go to each firm.

After Secretary Metcalf gets through with the President, Secretary Root has arranged to have a conference with him. One of the most important points he will discuss will be the consummation of a commercial "arrangement" with France. It will be noted that this is nothing so formal as a treaty or even a convention. It is just an arrangement. The President has become tired of sending treaties to the Senate and having them pigeonholed and the result is that the most of our commercial relations with other powers are being made by documents that do not have to go to Congress for approval. This is executive usurpation of the legislative function of course. But it has worked so far and the country has been the better off for it. The Senate deliberates until the crack of doom, or adjournment, which is the same thing.

France has been very anxious to conclude some commercial arrangement with this country that will be as satisfactory as that recently entered into by the United States with Germany. Ambassador Jusserand, the French representative in Washington, has gone over the subject carefully with Secretary Root and the plan that has been decided on between them is believed to be as good a one as can be secured under present tariff conditions.

Army and navy officers do not often confess any interest in the performances of a mere "showman," but there is a deal of talk in both Departments over the performance of Lincoln Beachy, the young aeronaut, who last week sailed in an airship over Fort Wadsworth outside of New York City and dropped some paper "bombs" among the big guns, enough, had they been cans of dynamite, to have blown the whole fort out into the Narrows. It was merely a show ascent from one of the summer amusement parks near by. Beachey did not even take the management into his confidence as to what he intended to do. But he carried along with him several big paper balls weighted just enough to fall straight. His course took him over Fort Wadsworth and he tossed the "bombs" into the fort from a safe elevation of nearly 3,000 feet. It just showed what an airship could do to a fort or a fleet under service conditions and has set the whole of the War Department talking dirigible balloons in a way that they have not been talking since Santos Dumont made his first successful flight. The War Department has a balloon corps and now has accumulated ten ordinary spherical balloons that are merely intended to be used for observation. But the field of usefulness of the steerable balloon is such that it is receiving considerable attention.

While there is always a possibility of ordinary fleets and forts being rendered useless by the appearance of the practicable airship, the Navy Department is going ahead with the construction of vessels that will put this country well abreast of any other naval power. The latest is the launching of the scout ship Chester, which is the first of the naval scout class constructed in this country. She is the first of three ships of the same class that were appropriated for by the last Congress. She cost a little over $1,500,000. She will have a speed of 24 knots and this is greater than any other ship in the navy except the torpedo boats and the destroyers. At the same time she will have a main battery of four 5-inch rifles and a minor battery to match. Her speed will not be quite so great as the scout ships of some of the other powers, but she will be able to keep up her contract speed for a longer time and under worse weather conditions than any other ship afloat. She is not the first scout ship of the navy, though she is the first that has been built in this country. The Department bought the New Orleans from Brazil just after she had been completed in Europe about the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. She could only do 21 knots under the best conditions and her guns were not of the standard navy calibre, necessitating special ammunition for her. But she was a trim, effective ship and was of so much use as a scout and a dispatch boat that she has been improved on and added to the navy as a regular type.

An interesting question has come up before the pure food board of the Department of Agriculture. It is what constitutes "Scotch Whiskey?" There is an immense amount of so-called Scotch whiskey imported to the United States. By far the most of it never saw Scotland, and some that is made there would not be allowed to be sold in England by the board of revenue. Some of the importers have raised the question with the Department of Agriculture and a decision on the subject is awaited with great interest. Meantime the average citizen will continue to drink "Scotch" high balls without questioning their nativity.

LETTER FROM COMMISSIONERS.

The Legislature of Florida at its recent session created a Commission to investigate the acts and doings of the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund from the beginning of the Trust to date. This Commission is now daily engaged in the work required by said Legislative Act.

There is a mass of records, books, papers, maps, charts, etc., to be carefully gone over and examined as well as land deeds, patents, etc., which will necessarily require some time to complete thoroughly as required by the law. Numbers of witnesses who are supposed to be material have been subpoenaed to appear before the Commission at stated intervals to testify as to individual transactions and land sales and by their evidence to aid the Commission in ascertaining if the great Trust of the Internal Improvement Fund has been administered at all times faithfully, honestly and to the best interest of the people of Florida.

There may be and doubtless are citizens in various portions of the State who are in possession of information that would be useful to the Commission, and we have adopted this method of appealing to the State press to give currency to our desire that any and all such persons and those who have complaints against any past action of the trustees, would let us know at once, so we may take the matter up and probe it to the bottom. Weekly papers are requested to copy.

AMERICAN MEERSCHAUM MINE.

(From a Consular Report.)

Meerschaum, which has heretofore come from Turkey, in Asia Minor, has recently been found in New Mexico, and its extreme scarcity will, from present indications, soon be at an end. The mines are located in the Diablo Mountains, about twenty miles northwest of Pinos Altos, to which a branch of the Santa Fe railroad runs from Deming. There have been stripped two true fissure veins, continuous for 1,500 feet each, in which there is carried between strongly defined walls meerschaum in widths of twenty inches.

As we have stated on several previous occasions and will probably continue to state at intervals, The Florida School Exponent is one of the prize publications that reaches this office. And we say this in no spirit of stereotyped compliment, but rather as the discharge of an obligation which we really owe. Editor McBeath, of The Exponent, has in marked degree that quality which Lowell ascribes to Carlyle, of "fecundating other minds," and when we get through reading his bright and suggestive little periodical, it is with the satisfying consciousness that we have been in touch with an intelligence that has helped our own and enabled us to see vital questions from a new angle. All this merely leads up to the expression of our pleasure to learn from the last issue of The Exponent just received that Prof. McBeath has "put away ambition" as an office seeker, and, although having many strong inducements to do so and the assurance of support from influential people, he will not be a candidate for the position of State Superintendent of Education. Our pleasure in knowing this is that otherwise we might lose him as editor of The Exponent and five hundred Florida boys and girls might have to give up a teacher rarely qualified for his work and who is perhaps doing more good in that work than he could accomplish in the other field. To renounce the alluring prospects of high official station and a better salary from pure love of the calling, the home and the kids and what others whose hearts are not in their work would call "the drudgery of teaching," as Prof. McBeath has done, is something rare these days; but that is the spirit that has given to the world its Arnolds and Elliotts and Wilsons and Aldermans and others of the noble guild to which civilization is so deeply indebted, and without it there would have been no peaks towering above the hills in the world of academic education.—Live Oak Democrat, June 20.

Representative Mondell of Wyoming has "gotten his" in the shape of a call from the Interior Department for the return of 160 acres of Government land to which he is not entitled. In the general shakeup and straightening out of the land office records, it was found that Representative Mondell had filed on 160 acres of Government land, filed on it as agricultural land when in reality it was a vein of coal on it. Further he had never lived on the land to perfect his entry as is required by law, but had simply had it handed to him by the land office probably more because he was a Congressman than for any other reason. Mr. Mondell has been very active in Western land legislation and has been a strong opponent of the President in a number of the Western land programs. Possibly this pernicious activity had something to do with his being singled out by the department to be made an example of. Anyhow he returned the land and no questions were asked. It is a wholesome example, but what the country needs is more than an example. Of course it was wrong for a Congressman or anyone else to appropriate Government land, when there are hundreds of thousands of acres of valuable mineral and timber land that have been stolen by the thousands of acres, under the tax administration of the land office, and it will be a cheering sight when the public gets "examples" of more than 160-acre cases.

The optimistic view of Chairman Knapp of the Interstate Commerce Commission that an area of peace between the corporations and the people is dawning is all nonsense. Mr. Knapp says the railroads are meeting the situation and that, "any further legislation will have the approval of railroad men as well as the public." If Chairman Knapp really believes what he says, he evidently does not understand the railroad tactics, which at present are to lie low and take what small knocks are coming to them from the Commission by virtue of the very imperfect law passed by the last Congress. The coming Congress is not expected to add any drastic legislation, and President Roosevelt has decided to rest upon his laurels, except to try to take from the States their present power to control common carriers within their borders and so make the general Government supreme, and that the railroads agree with him, but the majority of the people never should acquiesce, for they would lose the only power they possess of real railroad control.

The trial of former Associate Statistician Holmes of cotton leak fame is approaching a period. The defense half-way the proceedings entered a motion to dismiss the indictment and advanced about the most childish plea for the move that it would be possible to conceive. Owing to the testimony so far advanced, it has become plain that the defense could not disprove the fact that Holmes had sold advance information on the crop and profited largely, though not as largely perhaps as he might have done. But the defense claimed that there was no actual law against his disposing of the information if he saw fit and that consequently no crime had been committed. It was a pitiable attempt to evade both justice and equity and had the court listened to it, would have served to put a premium on dishonesty in the Government service.

Duet—"Some Day the Silver Cord Will Break."

THE NEWS FROM MELROSE.

Launching of Motor Boat Was Event of Marked Interest—Personals.

Melrose, July 3.—A stranger coming into Melrose yesterday afternoon would have been astonished to find most of the stores closed and nobody on the streets, for everybody in town, old and young, was at the foot of Quail street to witness the launching of the Jackson-Baldwin motorboat.

A start was made early by setting the boat on a truck and rolling her carefully on prepared tracks along Park street and down Quail street. The boat, gaily decorated with flags and held only by a long rope in the hands of many willing helpers, was ready for the final plunge, when at 3:15 p. m. Miss Lenna Jackson stepped forward and breaking a bottle of wine over the bow, named the boat "Lenema."

Let go! rang out, and midst the hearty cheers of the crowd the launch floated off in the most approved style, sitting as square and true as possible. A prettier sight no one could wish to see as she rode the water with the many flags flying in the breeze.

A better-made boat, or a more elegant and beautifully designed one, would be hard to find. She certainly does her owners credit, and our citizens are proud to think this is all Melrose talent. Bravo, Harry and Memory!

The Lenema, named after Mrs. Baldwin and Miss Jackson, measures 30 by 9 feet, and is equipped with an 8 horse-power double cylinder gasoline engine. The cabin will seat twenty-five or thirty comfortably, and five or six more could find seats in the engine-room. The inside will be hardwood finished, while the outside is white with green trimmings.

May their owners have many pleasant hours with the Lenema, is the wish of all Melrose.

The children's day excursion will take place July 7th in the morning, and not in the evening as heretofore stated.

MR. SWEARINGEN GENEROUS.

Gave His Employes at Camp a Fine Barbecue Wednesday.

As a token of appreciation, as well as an assurance of the most congenial good-will, T. J. Swearingen, the naval stores operator of Kanapaha, yesterday tendered to his employes a banquet and barbecue, which proved one of the most successful and enjoyable ever held in this section of the State.

Mr. Swearingen, who employs from 125 to 150 men at all times, was desirous of showing his men how appreciative he was of their faithfulness and their service, with the result that he ordered "the fatted calf" killed, and a detachment from the force, who declared that they were perfectly familiar with the process of a barbecue, volunteered to do the work. A large barbecue vat was prepared, and all during the night Tuesday the barbecuers were kept busy preparing the meat.

On Wednesday not only the employes of Mr. Swearingen and his family congregated at the scene of the feast, but "there were others," friends of the operator, but there was plenty for all, and the day was spent in a manner most enjoyable to all, which was duly appreciated all around.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 3.—Published reports that battleships of the Atlantic fleet of the United States navy are to be transferred to the Pacific coast because of anti-American feeling in Japan were denied by William Loeb, President Roosevelt's secretary. SEABOARD SOUTHERN DEAL.

Through Freight Service From Atlanta—Saving of Time.

Macon, Ga., July 3.—It was announced here Monday by officials of the Macon, Dublin and Savannah railway that a through freight service had been arranged with the Southern from Atlanta, which will mean the operation of a 15-hour schedule from Atlanta to Macon over the Southern, thence to Vidalia over the Macon, Dublin and Savannah, and from that point to Jacksonville over the Seaboard.

The Seaboard is said to have reached the agreement with the Southern after a failure to secure the signature of General Manager T. K. Scott, of the Georgia railroad, for the agreement by which the Georgia road was to handle through freight for the Seaboard from Atlanta.

The arrangement, which was first announced with the Southern, is practically what has been secured, and what now seems a business agreement. This, it is said, will save the Seaboard more than 12 hours on the through freight from the east and northeast and on all that which was hauled through South Carolina, far out of the way.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS.

Over a Hundred Citizens of Guatemala Thrown Into Prison.

Mexico City, Mexico, July 3.—Word has reached Mexico City that President Cabrera, of Guatemala, had caused the arrest of 160 citizens of that republic on the charge of alleged complicity in the recent attempt to assassinate him.

All were thrown into prison, and later huddled into squads of 20 and tried in groups. Two bands have been tried and many have been sentenced to death. Among the prisoners are some of the most wealthy and prominent men in the republic.

The statement is made that these men have long been on Cabrera's blacklist, and that the charges against them were trumped up for political reasons.

The report has created great excitement among Central American residents in this city, and at a mass meeting to be held the matter will be discussed.

Hot Prohibition Discussion.

Atlanta, July 3.—A red-hot prohibition discussion was provoked in the city council Monday on the introduction of resolutions by Alderman H. M. ADAM IVEY WAS BAD TO WIFE

Man Arrested for Perjury Held Under Bond for Grand Jury.

FISH ENTRAILS IN WIFE'S FACE

According to His Own Testimony, He Had Not Treated Her Just Right at Times, But Was Provoked—Story Told by Both Man and Woman.

Adam Ivey, charged with perjury by his wife, Mary Ivey, occupied the attention of the County Judge's Court Tuesday morning, and attracted a large number of people interested in the case, either directly or indirectly.

Several days ago Adam was arrested at the instigation of his wife upon a charge of perjury, the wife stating that the defendant, her former husband, had sworn falsely in certain allegations in divorce proceedings, the said divorce having been granted by these sworn statements, and without the knowledge of the plaintiff, Mary Ivey.

Ivey was placed under a bond of $500 for his appearance in the court on Tuesday at the time of his arrest, and he was there, "Johnny on the spot," so to speak. His wife was there too, and with her were a number of her female friends, with the result that things got rather warm and exciting before the hearing was at an end.

The only witnesses placed upon the stand were Ivey and his wife, both of whom naturally told different stories. Ivey admitted that it might be possible at times that he did not treat his wife with the courtesy which a husband should treat her, admitting that, after being pressed by State Attorney Rivers, he threw a vessel containing fish entrails at her, while she was in bed, giving as his reason that he was "a little provoked" at some action of the woman's.

After hearing the evidence of both parties, Judge Mason placed the defendant under a bond of $300 for his appearance before the grand jury at the fall term of the court, this bond being $200 less than that required at his arrest.

Attorney Geo. W. Scofield represented the defendant.

PSYCHIC EPILEPSY.

Disease Which Affects Its Victims in a Strange Way.

New York, July 2.—Inquiry among experts in mental diseases discloses that psychic epilepsy which Dr. Elmer Elliott offered as a plea to excuse an assault the other day—a plea which amused some of the district attorneys and assistants, but which was readily accepted by the justices of special sessions—has long been recognized and described by physicians.

The prominent feature o fthe affliction is that its victims are prone to commit acts of violence, ranging from simple assault to murder.

While physicians agree that they are a menace to the community and liable to become possessed of a homicidal mania, the insanity expert is willing to have himself quoted favoring the forced incarceration of those who suffer from the disease.

An investigation of the symptoms positively furnishes an interesting explanation of the many cases of temporary disappearance and loss of memory, and "lost identity" cases that have been reported in recent years.

Numerous cases are recorded by various authors upon medical jurisprudence where a deception has been kept up for years by those who feign epilepsy. Such impostors are known among medical experts and to the police as "dummy checkers."

4 BOTTLES $3.00
EXPRESS PREPAID

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief all alone, and as a conspicuous example of frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, overworked, debilitated, nervous, run-down, pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections, whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent nor secret medicines for they are neither —being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted FREE, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

WOMEN KILLED BY OPERATIVE

Meisheimer Had Been Drinking and Quarreled Over Seat at Table.

Lynchburg, Va., July 2.—Joseph Meisheimer, a weaver at the Lynchburg cotton mill, Sunday night shot and killed Mrs. Charlie Walker, with whom he boarded, killing her instantly, and probably fatally shot Mrs. Walker's mother, Mrs. Martha Drewry, aged about 50 years.

It is believed the man turned the weapon on himself, but he managed to escape in the darkness, before the husband of the dead woman knew what had taken place. A vigorous search is being made for the man.

Meisheimer had been drinking and, as far as can be learned, the trouble seems to have been over the fact that Mrs. Walker allowed another boarder to occupy his seat at the supper table. Words followed, and Meisheimer drew his gun and began firing, both of his shots taking effect. Meisheimer came here five years ago from Salisbury, N. C.

New World Record Made.

Rome, July 2.—Count Constantine Walsh, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, made a new world's record with the 56-pound weight Saturday at Celtic Park. A. Williams, of the Xavier Athletic club, and Walsh were the only competitors in the 56-pound weight event. Williams had six feet handicap, but the best he could do was to throw the weight 8 feet, while Walsh threw it 15 feet, 2½ inches, smashing his own record of 15 feet, 2 inches.

Earthquake Shock Recorded.

Washington, July 2.—The coast and Geographic survey service reports that an earthquake was recorded at the Cheltenham, Md., observatory Monday morning beginning at 8:14:51 and lasting one hour. The principal disturbance was from 8:22 to 8:25, the largest motion being in a north-south direction. The shock was comparatively greater than that at Kingston, but not so great as the San Francisco earthquake.

Strike Threatened.

Albany, N. Y. July 2.—A strike on the lines of the United Traction company is threatened. The employees at a meeting Monday voted to reject the offer made by the company of a flat rate of 24 cents an hour, their demand being 27½ cents. A conference is being held between a committee representing the company and a joint committee representing the employees.

FAULKENBURG MONUMENT.

Beautiful Stone Unveiled to His Memory at Denver.

Denver, Colo., July 2.—Over a [illegible] in Fairmount cemetery the Women of the World on Sunday unveiled a magnificent monument to the memory of the late Col. [illegible] P. A. Faulkenburg—unveiled it with full rites and imposing pomp [illegible] of the dead. Mrs. Faulkenburg [illegible] still had an application pending in the district court asking for a permanent injunction restraining the Women from using the name of her father on their monument.

There was a good representation of the leading officials of the order at the ceremony, including Sovereign Commander Joseph Colin Root, of Omaha, who delivered the memorial address.

Uniformed companies from Omaha, Kansas City, Cheyenne, Colorado Springs, Fort Collins, Pueblo and Denver gave a semi-military appearance to the function.

That the beautiful stone will ever fully fulfill its mission is doubtful.

Mrs. Faulks is determined her father's body shall never be moved and if she wins the suit for an injunction, the stone of the order will serve only as a tribute and memorial and will not mark the grave of Faulkenburg.

PICKPOCKETS' BIG HAUL.

Messenger of Allan Steamship Line Robbed of 1,500.

Montreal, Quebec, July 2.—A gang of pickpockets which has been operating in Montreal for the last few weeks made their biggest haul on Saturday when they got away with $1,500.

Gerald Murray, a messenger of the Allan Steamship line, was sent to the bank to draw out the week's pay for the employees. On returning to the offices and entering through a revolving door, Murray and the man accompanying him found their way blocked by two well-dressed men, attempting to leave the office through the compartment by which Murray was entering. There was some jostling which ended by the two men backing out and apologizing for their mistake. Murray went to deliver the money to the cashier, but found that the large envelope in which it was contained and which he carried in his inside coat pocket, was gone.

DEATH COMES TO MRS. LOMAX.

Native of Georgia and One of Alabama's Most Noted Women.

Montgomery, Ala., July 2.—Mrs. Carrie C. Lomax, one of the most noted women of Alabama, died at her residence in Montgomery Sunday night.

Mrs. Lomax was the widow of Colonel Tennent Lomax, who was killed at the battle of Seven Pines, and the mother of the late Tennent Lomax, many years distinguished in public life of Alabama. Mrs. Lomax was a native of Jones county, Georgia, and was 81 years of age. She had a large fortune and devoted many years of her life to charity, having recently built an annex to one of the large Methodist churches of Montgomery.

RICH HAUL BY PICKPOCKET.

Peter Worth, Bookmaker, Is Touched for $6,350.

New York, July 2.—A pickpocket secured the richest haul that has resulted from the Brooklyn bridge crush for a long time, when he secured $6,350 from the pocket of Peter Worth, a bookmaker. The money was not recovered, but George Howard was arrested on complaint of Worth, and is charged with having jostled him.

The platform at the Manhattan end of the bridge was densely crowded with passengers bound to the races, when Worth attempted to board a train. He declared that he was roughly jostled by Howard, and at the same time felt his purse extracted from his pocket. Howard boarded the train, but the police stopped it long enough to arrest him. The money was not in his possession.

Mixed.

Here is a mixture of kingdoms, if not of metaphors, taken from a history examination paper: "He stretched his sultry length beneath the ewe tree's shade." "Away back as far as the time of Jack Cartier England sent her ships into Hudson bay to trade beads and muskets with the Indians for ivory off the walrus tree."—Century.

"GRANDPA" FUTCH WAS

Veteran Citizen of Alachua Who Has Been Here 77 Ye

After a pleasant visit of a few days with two with relatives in this city, Futch, more familiarly known to everyone who knows him as "Grandpa" Futch, has returned to his home at Santa Fe.

Mr. Futch is now in his eighty-... year, but notwithstanding his advanced age, from general appearance and from his activity, he would be taken for a man of nearly a score of years younger. He is quite active both in body and mind, and a most clever, wholesouled individual to live. He is as jolly as the boy of sixteen, and good-naturedly declares that he will never grow old.

Mr. Futch was born in Bulloch county, Georgia, in 1825, but came to Florida when he was a mere boy. He has been a resident of Alachua county for seventy-seven years, during which time he has made a patriotic and desirable citizen. He has reared a large and prosperous family, running to the third generation. He is probably the oldest Confederate veteran in the State, and was here to arrange his papers for a pension under the law passed at the last session of the Legislature.

Sergeant Taylor's Guests

A jolly party of ex-students of the Florida Seminary are here on a visit to their former classmate, H. E. Taylor, who is a sergeant in the National Military Academy at West Point, and who is spending a few days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Taylor.

Those who are enjoying the hospitality of Sergeant Taylor are Capt. A. L. Herzog of Savannah, Capt. LeRoy Giles of Orlando, Angus Lindsey of Macan, Ga., and Lieutenant William Whitney of Fernandina, who have assembled here as representative of the Aris... club formerly in existence at the Seminary.

These young men were popular here as students of the Seminary and their numerous friends are delighted to greet them again.
